

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are poor has increased by 1 billion.

There are two main reasons for this. First, the population of the world has increased by 1 billion since 1980.

Second, the number of people who are poor has increased because the rich countries have not done enough to help the poor.

There are many ways in which the rich countries can help the poor. One way is to give them money.

Another way is to give them technical help. For example, they can help them to build roads and bridges.

They can also help them to improve their health care system. For example, they can help them to build hospitals and clinics.

There are many other ways in which the rich countries can help the poor. The important thing is that they should do something.

It is not enough to say that the poor are poor. We must do something to help them.

There are many people who are poor in the world. We must do something to help them.
